Teaching Cops The Way They Learn

Chances are good you got hired for the very things that got you in trouble in school. If school wasn't your favorite place to be when you were younger, it's no surprise that you don't always look forward to classroom training for your profession. The good news is that identifying and using those strengths now can make you a confident adult student who can figure out personal strategies for learning almost anything.

In this practical and entertaining seminar, you'll discover immediately useful ways to recognize and use your natural learning style strengths, and how to adapt and succeed under even the most frustrating circumstances. Best of all, you won't be bored doing it!

Recommendations from enthusiastic clients:

"Your inspirational and motivating words received countless accolades from conference attendees...I look forward to working with you in the future."

—William J. Bratton, Chief of Police
Los Angeles Police Department

"Cynthia Tobias probably understands cops better than they do themselves. She is one of the rare few who really knows what's going on and has the talent and training to help us achieve what we want out of life. I highly recommend her as a speaker or trainer for any conference."

—Myrle L. Carner
*Director of Law Enforcement Services, Crime Stoppers of Puget Sound
Co-Host "Cop Talk Radio" - FOX NEWS Network*

"The attendees of our Women in Policing Seminar were captivated by the fact that Cynthia Tobias really understands policing, different learning styles, and the strong personalities that it takes to work in such a career. I have never seen such an attentive audience. Almost a year later people are still talking about the seminar and how we learned a lot about ourselves that day."

—Terri MacMillan, Retired Sergeant
Seattle Police Department, Seattle, WA
